

24th IAHR International Symposium on Ice Vladivostok, Russia, June 4 to 9, 2018

Dear Colleagues,

On behalf of the Local Organizing Committee (LOC) you are cordially invited to the 24th IAHR International Symposium on Ice, which will be held from June 4th - 9th, 2018, in Vladivostok (Russia). The 24th IAHR International Symposium on Ice is sponsored by the International Association of Hydro Environment Engineering and Research (IAHR).

The successful events were held previously in St. Petersburg, Russia (2004), Vancouver, Canada (2008), Lahti, Finland (2010), Dalian, China (2012), Singapore (2014) and Ann Arbor, Michigan, USA (2016). The 2018th year will be the first time, when IAHR Symposium on Ice is held in Vladivostok (the Russkiy Island), at the Far Eastern Federal University (FEFU) that is the one of the leading federal universities in Russia.

We hope to continue the success in 2018 through your participation.

More information on the symposium is available at:

<https://iahr-ice2018.ru/>

Please feel free to contact us, if you have any question

ice@dvfu.ru

Please also circulate this announcement to colleagues who may be interested in this symposium.

Yours sincerely,

A handwritten signature in blue ink, appearing to read 'T. Uvarova', is located below the text 'Yours sincerely,'.

Dr. Tatiana Uvarova
Member of IAHR Ice Research and Engineering Committee
Chairman of LOC
School of Engineering
FEFU